

Expert Directory for Media

To get in touch with any of Notre Dame's academics, please contact -

Western Australia and National

Leigh Dawson (Senior Communications Coordinator)

(08) 9433 0569 / 0447 609 140 / leigh.dawson@nd.edu.au

Architecture

Name	Position	Areas of Expertise	Brief
Professor Sarah McGann	Dean	Architecture	Professor Sarah McGann is Dean of the School of Arts & Sciences, Fremantle. She specialises in architectural research, architectural design, educational leadership and other social sciences.

Archaeology and History

Name	Position	Areas of Expertise	Brief
Dr Shane Burke	Senior Lecturer, Archaeology and History	British settlement of WA, archaeology of WA, Western Australian history, technology used in WA mining, patterns of human behaviour	Dr Shane Burke specialises in the archaeology and history of the recent past, concentrating particularly on the material evidence of the early British settlement of Western Australia and how the British adapted to the new physical and cultural environment.
Associate Professor Deborah Gare	Discipline Coordinator, History	Australian, Western Australian and Empire history, women in WA, history curriculum in schools, Swan River Colony	Associate Professor Deborah Gare leads the History program on the Fremantle Campus. Deborah is passionate about researching the history of women in Fremantle and has written a biography of Mary Ann Friend (1800-39).
Associate Professor Steven Lovell-Jones	Associate Professor	Modern European History, Catholic social teaching	Associate Professor Steven Lovell-Jones is the Dean of the School of Arts & Sciences, Sydney. He specialises in modern European History and Catholic Social Teaching.
Dr Christine de Matos	Lecturer	Allied Occupation in Japan (especially the Australian role)	Dr Christine de Matos' research interests include the Australian role in the Allied Occupation of Japan (1946-1952), in particular using gender, race and class to elucidate the power dynamics of the occupier-occupied relationship. Her other teaching and research interests include Australian history,

5-star ratings

- ✓ Teaching quality
- ✓ Generic skills
- ✓ Overall satisfaction
- ✓ Graduate starting salary
- ✓ Getting a full-time job

2016 Good Universities Guide

			Japanese history, Australia-Asia relations, gender and history, and digital history.
--	--	--	--

Behavioural Science and Counselling

Name	Position	Areas of Expertise	Brief
Dr Sagar Athota	Lecturer	Individual Differences and human values, Cross-cultural morality	Dr Sagar Athota's current research involves the social and psychological study of morality, focussing on how the interplay between personality and cognition influences individual morality.
Dr Ebi Cocodia	Senior Lecturer	Counselling: reflective practice, public mental health and cultural perspectives. Educational Psychology: abilities, learning and human intelligence.	Dr Ebi Cocodia's current research interests are in the fields of counsellor education and training, student motivation & individual differences, cross-cultural approaches and human intelligence
Associate Professor Dawn Darlaston-Jones	Coordinator, Behavioural Science	Social justice, cultural issues, education, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students in higher education.	Associate Professor Dawn Darlaston-Jones's research interests lie in the areas of social justice and critical psychology with particular emphasis on resistance and emancipation, cultural issues, and education. The focus of her current work is Indigenous education and the importance of curriculum change to encourage and support Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students in higher education as well as how the changing climate of higher education can lead to feelings of exclusion within the university context.
Dr Hugo Gonzales	Lecturer	Management of Obsessive Compulsive Disorders, Somatisation in Primary Care, Psychological adjustment to torture and trauma, Cross-cultural communication, Intercultural effectiveness, Cross cultural presentation of mental health disorders, Mental Health of Refugees and Asylum Seekers, Adjustment to Culture shock, Mental Health Awareness, Acculturative Stress and International Students	Dr Hugo Gonzales is a Lecturer in Counselling within the School of Arts & Sciences, Sydney. He specialises in wide range of disciplines including Coaching and Positive Psychology, Anxiety Disorders in Children and Adolescents, Eye Movement Desensitisation Reprocessing (EMDR) and Post traumatic Stress Disorders
Dr Sharon McCarthy	Senior Lecturer	Social construction of terrorism, community	Dr Sharon McCarthy completed her undergraduate degree in Psychology graduating with 1st Class honours. She has also completed a combined Masters/ PhD at Edith Cowan University in

5-star ratings

- ✓ Teaching quality
- ✓ Generic skills
- ✓ Overall satisfaction
- ✓ Graduate starting salary
- ✓ Getting a full-time job

2016 Good Universities Guide

		psychology, critical pedagogy	Community Psychology, focusing on the Social Construction of Terrorism in Western Australia. Her research specifically explored the discourse used to understand the issue of Terrorism and the implication this has had for identity construction and cultural relations. Sharon also has considerable experience as the Research Manager for a private community consultancy company prior to moving to Notre Dame in 2008.
Dr Linda Mckay	Lecturer	Domestic and family violence, Trauma and trans-generational transmission of trauma and abuse including child sexual abuse, Adoption issues, Grief and loss, Family Therapy	Dr Linda Mackay is a Lecturer in Counselling within the School of Arts & Sciences, Sydney. She specialises in a wide range of disciplines including parenting dilemmas, resilience in children, and self-harm and suicide in adolescents.

Business Law

Name	Position	Areas of Expertise	Brief
Robert Pelletier	Lecturer	Business Law	Robert Pelletier is a highly experienced commercial litigator. He has wide experience in handling corporate disputes. He has acted for Governments, listed and unlisted companies, small businesses and individuals in a career in private practice that spans 20 years.

Business Management

Name	Position	Areas of Expertise	Brief
Professor George Kailis	Professor of Management	Environment, fisheries management, strategy	Professor Kailis holds qualifications in law and management and has had extensive industry, government and community experience. Ongoing positions held by Professor Kailis include directorship of the M.G. Kailis Group, the WA Fishing Industry Council and the Australian National Centre for Oceans and Resource Security.
Associate Professor Helene de Burgh-Woodman	Associate Professor	Management	Associate Professor Helene de Burgh-Woodman has published extensively in the areas of consumption, marketing communications and cultural meaning. Her recent work includes papers in the European Journal of Marketing, Consumption, Markets and Culture; Marketing

5-star ratings

- ✓ Teaching quality
- ✓ Generic skills
- ✓ Overall satisfaction
- ✓ Graduate starting salary
- ✓ Getting a full-time job

2016 Good Universities Guide

			Theory; Qualitative Market Research; and Journal of Sociology and Social Policy.
Dr Stephen Treloar	Senior Lecturer	Human Resource Management	Dr Stephen Treloar is a Senior Lecturer in Human Resource Management in the School of Business, Sydney. He is a Churchill Fellow, former Finalist CEO of the Year (2007), and a recipient of the Prime Minister's Award for volunteering. Dr Treloar's past research interests, conference presentations and publications covers a wide range of fields including: social enterprise, corporate social responsibility, sport law, directors' responsibilities, conflicts of interest, expatriate management, and 'best practice' management.

Environmental Science

Name	Position	Areas of Expertise	Brief
Associate Professor Dylan Korczynskij	Senior Lecturer, Biology	Biology, animal behaviour, ecology, plant ecophysiology, zoology	Associate Professor Dylan Korczynskij commenced his appointment at Notre Dame as a lecturer in January 2003. In 1998, he was awarded a scholarship by Curtin University to undertake postgraduate research in plant ecophysiology, as a collaborative effort with the Department of Conservation and Land Management
Helen Smith	Lecturer and Discipline Coordinator, Environmental Science	Post-disaster environments, climate change impacts, sustainability, regional development	Helen Smith lectures in Geography and Environmental Science. Originally from South Africa, she has worked as an environmental consultant, with private and public organizations, run an eco-tourism/conservation company and been involved with the marine industry and various academic institutions. Helen has been involved with the operational aspects of running a natural heritage nature reserve, which bred endangered antelope and seahorses.

Finance

Name	Position	Areas of Expertise	Brief
------	----------	--------------------	-------

5-star ratings

- ✓ Teaching quality
- ✓ Generic skills
- ✓ Overall satisfaction
- ✓ Graduate starting salary
- ✓ Getting a full-time job

2016 Good Universities Guide

Professor Derek Parkin OAM	Professor of Accounting	Accounting, managerial accounting and auditing	Professor Derek Parkin has been a national Board member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants Australia (ICAA) and a member of its national Education Board and national Audit Advisory Committee. He is currently a member of the Chartered Accountants' Advisory Group in Western Australia.
Associate Professor Geoff Morris	Associate Professor	Economics	Associate Professor Geoff Morris is the Dean of the School of Business, Sydney. He specialises in the area of economics.
Mark Hornshaw	Lecturer	Economics, Management	Mark Hornshaw is a Lecturer in the School of Business, Sydney, with a particular focus on innovation and entrepreneurship in business. Throughout his career, Mark has founded and managed a number of small businesses in the telecommunications and food-service industries.

Health and Sport Recreation

Name	Position	Areas of Expertise	Brief
Tanya Blee	Lecturer	Exercise physiology, factors affecting sports performance, disease risk factors, training techniques	Tanya Blee is a Lecturer within the School of Health Sciences, specialising in clinical exercise physiology. Tanya is the coordinator of the Graduate Diploma in Exercise Science and Master of Exercise Science courses and her lecturing duties cover units at both the graduate level (musculo-skeletal rehab, cardiac EP and Clinical EP practicum) and undergraduate level (disease risk factors and fitness assessment & counseling).
Professor Gerard Hoyne	Associate Dean	Microbiology, Immunology, Infectious Diseases	Gerard Hoyne joined Notre Dame in 2009 and was appointed the Associate Dean of Health Sciences. Gerard completed his BSc and PhD at The University of Western Australia and has previously worked at Imperial College in London and the University of Edinburgh in the United Kingdom within the field of immunology. His research work has investigated how the immune system regulates immune responses to self and foreign proteins. This has important implications in the development of autoimmune diseases such as allergy and diabetes.
Duncan Picknoll	Lecturer	Outdoor education	Duncan Picknoll holds a number of National Outdoor Leader Registration Scheme (NOLRS) and Australian Canoeing (AC) Assessor qualifications and has recently completed registration as an Accredited Practitioner of the Institute of Outdoor Learning (APIOL).

5-star ratings

- ✓ Teaching quality
- ✓ Generic skills
- ✓ Overall satisfaction
- ✓ Graduate starting salary
- ✓ Getting a full-time job

2016 Good Universities Guide

Ben Piggott	Lecturer	Strength and conditioning; injury management; exercise and sport science; sport training methods	Ben has a strong interest in Strength and Conditioning and has worked with athletes in cricket, rugby league, rugby union and AFL. He is a Level 2 Strength and Conditioning Coach and presents regularly at AFL coaching courses.
Associate Professor Fiona Farringdon	Assistant Dean	Health promotion; community development; health and physical education; alcohol and drug programs; eating patterns of adolescents; mental health	Associate Professor Fiona Farringdon has been involved in health education and health promotion for over 25 years at the practitioner and academic levels. Her research interests include the efficacy of school-based health education programs; reducing alcohol and other drug related harm for individuals and communities, eating patterns of adolescents, and mental health in adolescents.
Dr Fleur McIntyre	Lecturer	Young children's motor coordination	Dr Fleur McIntyre is a Lecturer in the School of Health Sciences. Fleur currently coordinates units involving physical activity and health, motor control, psychosocial aspects of sport and physical activity.
Professor Naomi Trengove	Dean	Health and physical education, exercise and sport science, preventive health	Professor Naomi Trengove is the Dean of the School of Health Sciences. Naomi trained as a registered nurse before specialising further in wound healing.

Indigenous issues, research and education

Name	Position	Areas of Expertise	Brief
Dr Sandra Wooltorton	Director, Nulungu Research Institute	Two-way learning, children and nature, social ecology, sustainability transition.	Dr Sandra Wooltorton comes from Noongar country in South West Western Australia. She joined Notre Dame as Director of Nulungu Research Institute in January 2015. Sandra has worked at different times as a teacher, an education officer, and a lecturer/researcher in WA and the NT. She worked as a teacher educator at Edith Cowan University (Bunbury) from 1999 until 2013 and in 2014 she taught the junior class at Muludja Remote Community School in the Fitzroy Valley, WA. Sandra has a passion for Aboriginal education and sustainability education and a commitment to environmental and social justice.
Sally Clark	Acting Head Broome Campus	Midwifery, child health, sexual and reproductive health, nursing education, Aboriginal studies	Sally Clark is the Acting Head of the Broome Campus and also the Assistant Dean of the School of Nursing & Midwifery, Broome. Sally has led the development of innovative ways of providing educational opportunities to people living in regional and remote areas.

5-star ratings

- ✓ Teaching quality
- ✓ Generic skills
- ✓ Overall satisfaction
- ✓ Graduate starting salary
- ✓ Getting a full-time job

2016 Good Universities Guide

Law and the legal system

Name	Position	Areas of Expertise	Brief
Professor Doug Hodgson	Dean	Torts law and theory, public international law, human rights and equal opportunity law, refugee law, constitutional law, administrative law, trusts	Professor Doug Hodgson has spent more than 30 years as an academic lawyer, having previously taught law at the University of Western Australia; Victoria University of Wellington; Monash University and the University of Saskatchewan.
Dr Marilyn Krawitz	Lecturer	Social media and the law, dispute resolution, criminal law	Marilyn Krawitz currently lectures civil procedure and evidence. Marilyn's research interests are social media and the courts, health law and dispute resolution.
Dr Lara Pratt	Senior Lecturer	Human rights law, international law, humanitarian law	Dr Lara Pratt currently teaches in Contemporary Legal Issues, International and Comparative Law and Property Law A & B. Her research and teaching interests include comparative law, European law, human rights, international law, international humanitarian law and jurisprudence.
Professor Michael Quinlan	Dean	Corporate insolvency, dispute resolution	Professor Michael Quinlan is the Dean of the School of Law, Sydney. Professor Quinlan had a distinguished career of over 23 years at the prestigious commercial law firm Allens where he was a partner for more than 14 years. Professor Quinlan is frequently published, particularly in the areas of corporate insolvency and restructuring law and insurance and reinsurance law.
Dr Keith Thompson	Associate Dean	Evidence Law, Law and Religion, Constitutional Law, Comparative Law, International Law, Human Rights Law, Legal History	Dr Keith Thompson is Associate Dean of the School of Law, Sydney. He first graduated in law at Auckland University in 1981 and practised there as a commercial and property lawyer for 11 years, including six as a partner in the firm Fortune Manning.
Professor Gerard Ryan	Professor of Law	Contract Law, Estoppel, Energy Law (including Electricity and Gas Market Regulation), Electricity Derivative Transactions using the ISDA, Documentation, Energy Infrastructure Projects	Professor Gerard Ryan's expertise includes the documentation of electricity derivative transactions using the International Swaps and Derivatives Association framework; competition law issues in the energy sector; the documentation of large energy infrastructure projects; greenhouse gas regulatory schemes; renewable energy power stations; carbon trading; and regulatory issues in the National Electricity Market.
Prasan Ulluwishewa	Assistant Dean	Torts, employee relations law, criminal law, construction law	Prasan Ulluwishewa completed his LLB/ B Commerce (Accounting) at UNSW and practiced as a Solicitor at Mallesons Stephen Jaques (now King & Wood Mallesons) with a practice focus on corporate, commercial and competition law in the course of representing clients in heavily regulated industries. Prior to and after this Prasan also served as a Speechwriter and Senior Policy Advisor to two (now former) Premiers of New

5-star ratings

- ✓ Teaching quality
- ✓ Generic skills
- ✓ Overall satisfaction
- ✓ Graduate starting salary
- ✓ Getting a full-time job

2016 Good Universities Guide

			South Wales and several NSW Government Ministers. Prasan completed his Masters in Law (LLM) at the University of Virginia School of Law with a focus on US commercial and antitrust law in the context of the energy and resources sector.
--	--	--	--

Marketing and Public Relations

Name	Position	Areas of Expertise	Brief
Vikki Baldwin	Coordinator, Marketing	Corporate social responsibility, public relations, international marketing	Owning and operating her own marketing and public relations consultancy since the 1990's, Vikki Baldwin brings her industry experience with her and incorporates this expertise into her teaching and work with students. Vikki is a member of the National Education Committee for the Public Relations Institute of Australia; a certified practising marketer; and a member of the Australian Market and Social Research Society.
Phillip Cenere	Associate Dean	Public Relations, Business Internships	Phillip Cenere is Associate Dean and Course Coordinator (Public Relations) in the School of Business, Sydney. He is an experienced leader in executive education and higher education management and a non-executive director and board consultant.
Maree Piper	Senior Lecturer - Marketing	Marketing, Advertising	Maree Piper has has designed marketing strategies for the tourism industry and for print and radio broadcasters. As a promotional strategist, she has coordinated special events, publicity and advertising across a broad range of industries.

Media and the Arts

Name	Position	Areas of Expertise	Brief
Professor Chris Wortham	Professor of Theatre Studies and English Literature	Ancient, medieval and modern drama, Shakespeare, 17th	Professor Christopher Wortham has been Professor of Theatre Studies and English Literature since 2009. He is also Associate Dean (Teaching and Learning).

5-star ratings

- ✓ Teaching quality
- ✓ Generic skills
- ✓ Overall satisfaction
- ✓ Graduate starting salary
- ✓ Getting a full-time job

2016 Good Universities Guide

		century poetry, Australian literature
Michael McCall	Course Coordinator, Communications and Media / Film and Screen Production	Film and Screen Production, Media, Arts	Michael McCall works in a professional capacity as a director, actor, playwright, dramaturg, script editor, arts advocate and educator in stage and screen and arts education in Australia since 1997. He is a graduate of Curtin University (1997), with BA English, as well as a graduate of the National Institute of Dramatic Art (NIDA) Acting Course (2001). In 2008, he completed Honours at Curtin in Performance Studies. He completed a Masters in film and television directing and screenwriting at the WA Screen Academy (2008-09) and is in the final stage of a PhD in Performing Arts at the Western Australian Academy of Performing Arts (WAAPA).
Dr Mignon Shardlow	Senior Lecturer, Journalism	Journalism education, work integrated learning, media ethics and freedom, new media, health communication, global media, journalism and activism and community journalism	Dr Mignon Shardlow is a journalist turned academic with experience in newsrooms from the Republic of Palau in Micronesia to Kununurra in Western Australia.
Georgina Ledvinka	Assistant Dean	Gothic fiction (old and new) including books, films and TV – vampires, monsters, zombies etc, Books and films for children and young adults	Georgina Ledvinka lectures in English Literature, specialising in gothic literature and its legacy, world literatures and other influential literature forms. Georgina's current research focuses on representations of religion and gender in fantasy literature for children and young adults.
Dr Ari Mattes	Lecturer	Media Studies (especially new media), Hollywood Film, Contemporary Literature	Dr Ari Mattes is a Lecturer in Communications and Media Studies within the School of Arts & Sciences, Sydney. He specialises in Hollywood films and literature.
Dr Jane Stenning	Associate Dean	Australian literature, 1890s, esp. Henry Lawson, Frank Moorhouse, Media representations of Indigenous Australians, Creative non-fiction	Dr Jane Stenning's key research interests lie in narratology and, in particular, the relationship between irony, ethics and narrative.
Jane Bergeron	Senior Lecturer	Theatre maker, professional actor, director and playwright	From 1990-2002 Jane Bergeron served as artistic director of Vintage Repertory Company in Portland, Maine, staging over 40 professional productions of modern and contemporary European and American plays. Directing credits include plays by Chekhov, Pinter, Albee, Moliere, Mamet and Shakespeare.

Medicine and health research

5-star ratings

- ✓ Teaching quality
- ✓ Generic skills
- ✓ Overall satisfaction
- ✓ Graduate starting salary
- ✓ Getting a full-time job

2016 Good Universities Guide

Name	Position	Areas of Expertise	Brief
Professor Shirley Bowen	Dean	Public health, community and ambulatory care, acute hospital system	Professor Shirley Bowen is the Dean of the School of Medicine, Fremantle. Professor Bowen was most recently the Director of Medical Services at St John of God Murdoch Hospital and has held other senior roles including Executive Director of Fremantle Hospital; Acting Area Chief Executive of the North Metropolitan Area Health Service; and Chief Medical Officer of the ACT. She is also an Infectious Diseases Physician.
Professor Christine Bennett AO	Dean of Medicine & Chair of College	Mental health and wellbeing, doctor education, paediatrics	Professor Christine Bennett is a specialist paediatrician and has over 30 years of health industry experience in clinical care, strategic planning and senior management in the public, private and not-for-profit sectors. She is a Fellow of the Royal Australasian College of Physicians and has an active commitment to and involvement in medical professional issues, social policy and medical research.
Professor Eric Visser	Churack Chair of Chronic Pain Education and Research	Chronic pain, pain medicine	Professor Eric Visser is Notre Dame's Churack Chair of Chronic Pain Education and Research. Professor Visser holds a Bachelor of Medicine/Bachelor of Surgery from the University of Western Australia, and is a Fellow of the Australian and New Zealand College of Anaesthetists and a Fellow of the Faculty of Pain Medicine of the Australian and New Zealand College of Anaesthetists. Professor Visser is one of the founding Fellows of Pain Medicine in Western Australia and has contributed to the growth of the Faculty significantly. He is also a member of the International Association for the Study of Pain and several other pain focused reference groups. Professor Visser was previously a consultant in pain medicine and anaesthesia at both Royal Perth and Fremantle Hospitals until 2014.
Professor Donna Mak	Head of Population and Preventive Health	Rural and regional health care; Aboriginal health	Professor Donna Mak is the Head of Population and Preventive Health in the School of Medicine, Fremantle. Her specialty is in rural and regional health care.
Professor Kathryn Hird	Associate Dean (Preclinical)	Speech therapy, university teaching, mentoring	Professor Kathryn Hird is Associate Dean (Preclinical) in the School of Medicine, Fremantle. She specialises in speech therapy, science, psychology and university teaching.
Associate Professor Joe McGirr	Associate Dean, Rural & Associate Professor	Rural	Associate Professor Joe McGirr is Associate Dean, Rural, in the School of Medicine, Sydney. He specialises in rural health care.
Professor Jim Codde	Director, Institute for Health Research	Public health, health service research, cancer treatment	Professor Jim Codde's research career spans three decades and several disciplines. He commenced his doctoral studies in the University Department of Medicine at Royal Perth Hospital (RPH). Moving to the University Department of Surgery at RPH

5-star ratings

- ✓ Teaching quality
- ✓ Generic skills
- ✓ Overall satisfaction
- ✓ Graduate starting salary
- ✓ Getting a full-time job

2016 Good Universities Guide

			where he worked for several years, he joined a team that sought to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of cancer treatment using a number of novel targeting strategies that included chemotherapy, radiotherapy, hysteresis and immunotherapy. During this time, his roles included being the Director of the Epidemiology Branch, and more recently, Director Clinical Planning in the South Metropolitan Health Service where he and his team contributed to the design of the recently opened Fiona Stanley Hospital. Jim has held adjunct professorial positions at UWA and Curtin University and an Honorary Research Fellow at the Telethon Kids Institute.
Professor Beth Hands	Research Associate, Institute for Health Research	Children and adolescents, nutrition	Professor Beth Hands was the Project Director of the WA Child and Adolescent Physical Activity and Nutrition Survey 2003 (WA CAPANS) conducted by Notre Dame for the Premier's Physical Activity taskforce and is an Honorary Research Fellow with the Telethon ICHR. She is an investigator on many grants and collaborates with leading researchers around the country and internationally.
Professor Max Bulsara	Biostatistician	Epidemology, disease	Professor Max Bulsara holds the Chair in Biostatistics. He has been involved in epidemiological studies for over two decades both in Zambia (Tropical Disease epidemiology) and in Australia (the Busselton survey, the MONICA survey, the MASTERS trial, the AIRCRAFT, the TARGIT trail). In 2006 he (with three other colleagues) won WA Inventor of the Year in the Research Organisation Category for his work on developing HEPASCOPE a non-invasive method of diagnosing liver fibrosis.
Dr Annabelle Farnsworth	Adjunct Professor	Gynaecological pathology	Dr Annabelle Farnsworth is an Adjunct Professor and holds the Douglass Hanly Moir Chair in Pathology in the School of Medicine, Sydney. Dr Farnsworth is a specialist gynaecological histopathologist and cytopathologist and is Director of Cytopathology at Douglass Hanly Moir Pathology. She is well known throughout Australia and internationally for her contributions to cytology and gynaecological pathology.

Nursing and midwifery

Name	Position	Areas of Expertise	Brief
------	----------	--------------------	-------

5-star ratings

- ✓ Teaching quality
- ✓ Generic skills
- ✓ Overall satisfaction
- ✓ Graduate starting salary
- ✓ Getting a full-time job

2016 Good Universities Guide

Professor Elaine Pavlos	Dean of the School of Nursing & Midwifery	Midwifery, paediatrics, child health, counselling	Professor Elaine Pavlos has senior executive experience in a number of roles in both the private and public sectors including Director of Nursing and Chief Executive Officer. Clinically Elaine has extensive experience in acute nursing, paediatrics and maternity care. Her research has included The Effects of Inadvertent Perioperative Hypothermia; Parents Participation in their Child's Care; Reviews of Scope of Practice and Supervision of Postgraduate Paediatric Nursing Students. Elaine has also worked nationally to deliver tailored programs to develop the leadership capabilities of Nurse Managers. Elaine uses her range of coaching skills to work with middle managers and senior executive staff in health care.
Dr Karen Clark-Burg	Associate Dean	Perioperative nursing, nursing management and teaching, learning innovations	Dr Karen Clark-Burg is currently the Acting Dean of the School of Nursing & Midwifery in Fremantle. Her research interests are in the area of perioperative nursing, nursing management, decision making and learning and teaching innovations.
Professor Selma Allix	Head of the Fremantle Campus	clinical education, palliative care, intensive care	Professor Selma Allix is the Pro Vice Chancellor and Head of the Fremantle Campus. Her area of expertise is nursing education and qualitative research. She has worked in all areas of nursing and has current nursing experience as a Community Health Nurse.
Darren Falconer	Undergraduate Course Coordinator	Critical Care, Pathophysiology and Pharmacology, Public Health, Professional Issues in Nursing, Men in Nursing	Darren Falconer has been a qualified registered nurse since 1997. His nursing experience is predominantly in Accident and Emergency nursing and medical repatriation. Darren has had quite a varied career to date, with a great deal of knowledge and clinical experience. Whilst teaching is his passion, he continues to work clinically to maintain his clinical skills, whilst also keeping up-to-date with what is happening within the healthcare system. In addition, he has been Clinical Supervisor for the international clinical placements to Tanzania and Vietnam for the last three years. His research interests are in the field of online learning and the use of technology, and men in nursing.
Dr Judith Wilson	Associate Dean	Midwifery, Aboriginal pregnancy, women's health care	Judith Wilson is a Registered Nurse and Registered Midwife having more than 29 years of clinical experience both nationally and internationally.
Professor Leanne Monterosso	Chair of Nursing (Clinical Nursing)	Palliative care, neonates, paediatrics, midwifery, clinical ethics, translational research	Professor Leanne Monterosso is the inaugural Chair of Nursing (Clinical Nursing) at Notre Dame's Fremantle Campus and St John of God Murdoch Hospital. Leanne has a comprehensive research background and has attracted significant research funding including grants from the ARC, NHMRC and the Canadian Health Institute.
Associate Professor Tracey Moroney	Dean	Neurosurgical, Neurology, Childbirth	Associate Professor Tracey Moroney is the Dean of the School of Nursing, Sydney. She has extensive experience in both undergraduate and postgraduate nurse education especially in the

5-star ratings

- ✓ Teaching quality
- ✓ Generic skills
- ✓ Overall satisfaction
- ✓ Graduate starting salary
- ✓ Getting a full-time job

2016 Good Universities Guide

		Educator, Aged care, Research	areas of clinical skill development, advanced and reflective practice and the development of clinical judgment.
Sally Robertson	Associate Dean (Learning & Teaching)	Intensive care, Curriculum coordinator, Education development	Sally Robertson is Associate Dean of the School of Nursing, Sydney. She has extensive experience in postgraduate nursing education and have had opportunities to work with many clinical experts in a wide range of specialties.
Associate Professor William Goodin	Associate Dean	Mental Health	Associate Professor William Goodin has maintained a strong clinical and research interest in alcohol, tobacco, and other drug-related harm and has made community contributions through long-term directorships on management boards of both government and non-government treatment agencies

Philosophy, theology and chaplaincy

Name	Position	Areas of Expertise	Brief
Dr Sandra Lynch	Director, Institute for Ethics and Society	All things faith, ethics & society.	Dr Sandra Lynch is the Director of the Institute for Ethics and Society. Her research interests lie in the areas of ethics and values education, the constitution of the self, friendship, critical thinking, and the intersection of philosophy and literature.
Dr Philip Matthews	Acting Dean	Philosophy	Dr Philip Matthews is Acting Dean of the School of Philosophy & Theology, Fremantle. His current academic interest is in cosmology and the philosophy of science and thus he is a keen amateur astronomer.
Rev Dr Peter Black	Professor	Sacred theology, Catholic health care	Rev Dr Peter Black is a Professor within the School of Philosophy & Theology in Fremantle. He has lectured in moral theology at the Vincent Pallotti Institute for the Laity, Rome, at Catholic Institute of Sydney, The Catholic Theological Union, Hunters Hill, and Yarra Theological Union
Dr Angus Brook	Associate Dean	Metaphysics, Aristotle, St Thomas Aquinas, Phenomenology, Philosophy of Education	Dr Angus Brook is Associate Dean of the School of Philosophy & Theology, Sydney. His research interests are: Metaphysics; particularly that of Aristotle and St. Thomas, Ontology, Phenomenology, and the philosophy of education.
Dr Robin Dennis	Logos Administrator & Learning Management System Coordinator, Logos Programme	Logos, Philosophy (Secularism and Christianity)	Dr Robin Dennis is the Logos Administrator and Learning Management System Coordinator on the Sydney Campus. His research interests include the role of reason in Christian tradition, the origins and status of modern understandings of reason, theories of secularisation, and the relationship between Christianity and the dominate forms of secularism.

5-star ratings

- ✓ Teaching quality
- ✓ Generic skills
- ✓ Overall satisfaction
- ✓ Graduate starting salary
- ✓ Getting a full-time job

2016 Good Universities Guide

Mr Peter Holmes	Lecturer School of Philosophy and Theology	Teaching Areas include: Old Testament, New Testament, Biblical Hebrew, Biblical (Koine) Greek, Fundamental Theology, Evangelisation, Masculinity, Preaching and Pastoral Theology.	Peter's research and expertise is in: Scripture, Biblical Interpretation, Faith and Reason, Pastoral Theology, Masculinity, Computer Gaming and Morality.
Associate Professor John Rees	Associate Professor of Politics and International Relations and Discipline Head in Politics and International Relations		Secularism and postsecularism in international relations Religion and international development policy Religion and foreign policy Political theology

Physiotherapy

Name	Position	Areas of Expertise	Brief
Professor Peter Hamer	Professor	All areas of physiotherapy	Professor Peter Hamer is the Dean of the School of Physiotherapy. Professor Hamer is a member of the Australian Physiotherapy Association, the International Society of Biomechanics, the Australian Association for Exercise & Sports Science and Sports Medicine Australia. He has served on the National Board of Sports Medicine Australia and is currently the President of the WA Branch.
Associate Professor Jo Connaughton	Acting Dean	Physiotherapy and mental health, paediatrics	Associate Professor Jo Connaughton is the Clinical Education Coordinator of the School of Physiotherapy. During her time as senior physiotherapist and discipline coordinator in a mental health setting Jo organised and chaired a forum of Physiotherapists working in Mental Health to allow for discussion and development of physiotherapy and mental health in WA.
Associate Professor Dale Edgar	Head of the Burn Injury Research Node	Burns treatment and management	Associate Professor Dale Edgar is a senior physiotherapist and researcher for more than 20 years, with the past 17 years dedicated to the specialisation in provision and improvement of burn survivor and acute trauma rehabilitation in a number of Australian burns and plastic surgery units.
Dr Ben Wand	Associate Professor	Pressure pain threshold, chronic pain, mental health, central nervous	Associate Professor Ben Wand is the Coordinator of Musculoskeletal Studies in the School of Physiotherapy. His current research interests include the role of central nervous system

5-star ratings

- ✓ Teaching quality
- ✓ Generic skills
- ✓ Overall satisfaction
- ✓ Graduate starting salary
- ✓ Getting a full-time job

2016 Good Universities Guide

		system function in chronic back pain, spinal injury	dysfunction in chronic low back pain and physiotherapy management of chronic spinal pain.
Bianca Burro	Lecturer	Neurology	Bianca Burro is a Lecturer in the School of Physiotherapy teaching within the neurological stream of the program. Bianca joined Notre Dame in 2012, before which she had worked at Royal Perth Hospital since 2006, predominantly in spinal cord injury rehabilitation. Her current research interests include physiotherapy management of the shoulder following spinal cord injury.

Politics and International Relations

Name	Position	Areas of Expertise	Brief
Dr Daniel Baldino	Senior Lecturer, Politics and International Relations	International relations, foreign policy, security, intelligence	Dr Daniel Baldino is a political scientist, specialising in Australian foreign and defence policy, counter-terrorism, contemporary intelligence issues and non- traditional security threats.
Dr Martin Drum	Senior Lecturer, Politics and International Relations	Australian politics, public policy, political history, parliamentary processes	Dr Martin Drum has worked public sector in the past and is an expert in Australian politics and public policy.
Associate Professor John Rees	Associate Dean	International politics	Dr John Rees is the foundation Lecturer in Politics and International Relations on the Sydney Campus. He has published and presented academic research internationally and in Australia.

Teaching and Education

Name	Position	Areas of Expertise	Brief
Professor Michael O'Neill	Dean	Catholic schooling, English curriculum, outcomes based education, curriculum reform, leadership	Professor Michael O'Neill is the Bernie Prindiville Chair of Education at Notre Dame. He has interests in English curriculum, Outcomes Based Education, the management of curriculum reform and educational policy and leadership.
Professor Chris Hackett	Associate Dean (Religious Education)	Religious education, pastoral care, spirituality, values education	Professor Chris Hackett teaches in the areas of Religious Education, pastoral care, spirituality education and values education. Chris has published academic articles and book chapters on Religious Education, teacher formation and student

5-star ratings

- ✓ Teaching quality
- ✓ Generic skills
- ✓ Overall satisfaction
- ✓ Graduate starting salary
- ✓ Getting a full-time job

2016 Good Universities Guide

			ministry and presented at conferences on the formation of RE teachers, student ministry and the spirituality of young people.
Dr Jean MacNish	Associate Professor	K-12 education, eLearning, ICT learning, mobile learning technology	Dr Jean MacNish coordinates and teaches undergraduate and postgraduate units in Information & Communications Technologies in the School of Education.
Professor Marguerite Maher	Dean	Social justice, ATSI education, early childhood education (preparing children in remote areas for school)	Professor Marguerite Maher has been a teacher educator in universities, a teacher in secondary and primary schools, and has taught in early childhood settings in Australia, New Zealand and South Africa.
Dr Sean Kearney	Lecturer	Educational Leadership	Dr Sean Kearney is Associate Dean (Academic) in the School of Education, Sydney. Sean's research interests include: assessment in higher education; service-learning as a means to improving educational outcomes; teachers' attrition and retention; and the psychology of learning styles.
Julie Maakrun	Lecturer	Primary Pedagogy	Julie Maakrun is a Lecturer in Primary Education in the School of Education, Sydney. Julie lectures in general pedagogy, second language learners and is an active member of the university community. Her research interests are in service-learning, underlined by the international experience programs she has undertaken with students in Kenya.
Tim Perkins	Senior Lecturer	Mathematic education, social justice, alternative education	Tim Perkins took up a full time lecturing position at The University of Notre Dame Australia in 2010. He is currently working on his PhD, exploring the role of mentoring in alleviating math's anxiety in pre-service primary teachers. He is part of a University team which has forged a strong relationship between Notre Dame and the Aberdare Ranges Primary School in Kenya. Tim has led trips for students from the Schools of Education and Medicine to volunteer in Kenya in 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014 and hopes to continue to do so into the future. The team he leads have received a Vice Chancellor's Award and an Office of Learning and Teaching Citation for their work in Kenya.

5-star ratings

- ✓ Teaching quality
- ✓ Generic skills
- ✓ Overall satisfaction
- ✓ Graduate starting salary
- ✓ Getting a full-time job

2016 Good Universities Guide